

WEBINAR PRESENTOR BIOS

EMILY BARROSE is founder and CEO of Bold in Business, an online coaching program that teaches professionals greater confidence in business. As a leadership consultant, Emily has expertise in developing leaders, strategic planning, negotiation, change management and cultural diversity. Emily is known for her ability to facilitate strategic and cultural change to drive sustained business growth and for building high performance, innovative cultures. She is adept at building successful teams of diverse leaders at all levels.

In 2020, Emily also founded and is now CEO of Bold Story Press, a publishing house for women authors who want to share their stories with the world.

Emily spent the first 32 years of her career in the publishing industry. As Vice President and Editor in Chief at McGraw-Hill, she transformed the sluggish culture into a competitive, hungry, growth-driven business. Fueled by explosive creativity, her $500 million dollar division quadrupled signings of new books with innovative content for the future. Emily believes that women are uniquely qualified to empower each other through sharing the stories of their experience. She knows the world will be a better place when we achieve better balance in our culture by increasing the numbers of women's voices.

SUSAN LEVIN is founder and president of Dialogue for Solutions, a global consulting firm providing coaching, facilitation, training, mediation and organization development services. She has worked with thousands of employees from a variety of organizations for more than 30 years, focusing on maximizing individual and organizational strengths to make a positive difference and get results.

As a certified coach, Susan has worked with leaders at all levels to help them uncover their own wisdom to find the answers they need. As a mediator certified by the Supreme Court of Virginia, she facilitates dialogue between people in conflict so that they can find new ways to resolve their mutual problems. She delivered training for students and faculty to facilitate dialogue groups on race, age, culture, gender and violence at the University of Virginia, among other clients. In addition to receiving a Faculty Excellence Award from the Graduate School, she is a contributing writer to the book, The Insider's Guide to Supervising Government Employees. She has a master's degree in International Affairs from the George Washington University.

REGINA RABENHORST, owner and consultant for Triple Crown Results, is a Certified Professional in Learning and Performance (CPLP) with over 17 years of experience in needs assessment, training and performance improvement design, delivery, and evaluation, e-learning course design, team development, change management, coaching, and organizational development. She is also an Associate Certified Coach with the International Coach Federation (ICF) providing management and leadership, executive, and career coaching for clients. She has worked both in the US and around the world with international staff and federal government agencies such as USAID, Department of Education, Millennium Challenge Corporation, Department of Defense, and National Security Administration as well as private and non-profit contractors and implementing partners.

and lead their organizations to achieve results. Her experience includes organizational strategy and process, and individual learning and development.

With corporate clients, Julie helps enable effective collaboration. She has helped align key customer account strategies; enabled internal functions to implement strategic and structural change; prepared teams for high-stakes negotiations; designed and delivered programs for new leaders; and developed high-performing talent. With non-profit organizations, Julie works with clients to develop business plans, define target markets and services, and adapt their organizations and leadership to fulfill their missions.

Julie holds an MS (Foreign Service) from Georgetown University, and an MA (History) and BA (History and International Relation) from Boston University. She speaks English, Spanish and native Russian.

JACEY SPRATT is an experienced trainer, facilitator, and certified career and leadership coach with 20 years of professional experience. Before founding Same Page Consulting in 2016, she spent ten years at Chemonics International and nearly four years at Development Alternatives Inc. As a consultant, she has worked with USAID, the World Bank, and more than 20 private, non-profit, university, and implementing partners domestically and internationally. She offers the following services: training design; training delivery; facilitation (retreat, team building, work/strategic planning, change management, and after action review); coaching for presentations; and career/leadership coaching for individuals and groups.

COACHING & LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT
WIA, is pleased to partner with Marshall Brown & Associates again this year in providing excellent professional development webinars. For more information about executive coaching and leadership development, please visit www.mbrownassociates.com

JULIE SALGANIK For nearly 20 years, Julie has worked as a consultant, facilitator, and coach with leaders in complex global organizations who are building and managing critical relationships internally and externally. She is founder and Managing Principal of Avance Global Consulting, where she works with clients to more effectively manage differences

WOMEN IN AEROSPACE

204 E Street, NE
Washington, DC 20002
202-547-0229

www.womeninaerospace.org